Who are We?

EtM is a non-profit organization who's purpose is to connect startups with leaders of the corporate world in order to enhance the social and economic development of Latin America (Latam).

We enable both face-to-face and online networking spaces. This is done by carrying out domestic and international events, as well as through our online global platform (EtMmeet).

EtMmeet is a free online platform that uses AI to connect entrepreneurs and startups with C-level executives, managers, investors, and mentors through 20-minute virtual meetings.

EtMtuesday are monthly events that focus on a specific theme, which change every time. Startups are able to present their pitch decks in front of investors and leaders of the corporate world. In addition, the events count with theme-specific panels which spark open conversations.

EtMtalks is a radio program, and podcast, where members of the EtM community share and discuss recent and relevant news within the Entrepreneurship and Innovation ecosystem of Latin America. These conversations are recorded and later transmitted openly on various social media platforms.
