Revisiting the Elevator Pitch

Reminder: The Bones of an Elevator Pitch...

A 30 second sound byte, that is your personal statement, and focuses on:

- What is important to you (emphasize where you want to focus) – so what?
- What is important to Boards (skills they care about) - who cares?
- What you bring to the Boardroom table – why you?

Deborah Rosati

“I have entrepreneurial, financial and governance expertise with high growth and transformational companies in technology, retail, consumer and cannabis industry”

Andrea Plotnick

“I have talent, culture, and governance expertise in an advisory capacity in telecom, healthcare and retail industries, with expertise in organizational transformation”

Network Mapping

Discussion of Network Map

1 Decision Makers

These are individuals that will make the final decision on who will join their board (Board members, in particular, the Chair of the Board and Chair of the Nominating Committee).

2 Connectors

Connectors make change happen through people. These are individuals that will connect you to board members, CEOs and Executives of a company you would like to serve on. (Lawyers, Accountants and other professional service firms and thought leaders..)

3 Mentors

Mentoring is about advising. These are individuals that inspire others in achieving their best and find joy in encouraging them to make a difference.

4 Sponsors

Where mentoring is about advising, sponsoring is about acting. Sponsors are typically Executive Sponsors inside your company. They are willing to put your name forward for board opportunities. Sponsors may also be individuals you have worked with in the past who believe in you. When you are looking for a sponsor, remember that it is a two-way relationship based on mutual respect and trust. You both need to be invested. Your sponsor is putting their name on the line by championing you, so you need to follow through with their advice and work hard to keep your sponsor's good reputation intact..

5 Organizations

Think about the organizations you are affiliated with, your alma mater, not-for-profits, professional organizations/associations and member-based organizations (like-CPA Canada, CBA, GPC etc.) and how you can leverage these organizations.

The Importance of Being a Good Connector, Mentor and Sponsor

Remember what we said about reciprocity!

Three tips

1. Be authentic. Approach connecting, mentoring and sponsoring with sincerity and come from a place in your heart of well-being.
2. Be timely and follow through. Always do what you say you are going to do.
3. Be mindful of your network. Your network is like your reputation, you need to be protective and strategic in who you know and how you tap into their network. It is a two-way relationship.

Mentorship-Sponsorship Spectrum

- You may have an opportunity to turn your connectors into advocates.
- Sponsors tend to get stuck in the middle of the spectrum.
- Find out what is holding them back from advocating for you.

A New Way of Thinking About Sponsorship

Sponsorship is not an either/or role—either committing fully or not at all. It's a spectrum of different kinds and degrees of support.

"Want More Diverse Senior Leadership? Sponsor Junior Talent."

Herminia Ibarra and Nana von Bernuth, Harvard Business Review, October 09, 2020

Mapping Your Way to a Board

Think about your network and how you might be connected to one of the Board members.

- Nexus points (i.e. law firms, accounting firms, other service providers)
