

Jeevyn Dhaliwal, Q.C.

I have served the SABABC Board on a continuous basis since its very early days and was appointed as the second President of the organization in 2007. I am very proud of the work we did in those early days to grow our organization to what was then, arguably, the largest minority Bar Association in Canada. Over the years, SABABC has offered varied and abundant programming for its members and is reinvigorated with a new Board that is committed to progressing its mandate. While my time is divided with my duties as a British Columbia Law Society Bencher, I feel that, as a senior South Asian lawyer, it is incumbent upon me to continue to offer my assistance to SABABC as a dedicated resource. Many of our colleagues are similarly able and it is my hope that we will continue to encourage and to see senior members of the Bar and Judiciary engaged with and supporting SABABC's mandate. I will continue to advocate to this end.
