ABOUT THE EVENT:

The Africa HR Leaders conference brings together Human Resource Experts who have a deep understanding on the changes that have taken place in the industry.

OHR is an ever evolving concept. HR leaders need to adapt to the dynamics of employees more so in today's modern corporate world.

The 2022 Global Skills Gap entails:

- Diversity, Equity & Inclusion
- Organization culture design
- Employee engagement & retention
- Employee mental health and well being
- People Analytics and Data Driven Decision Making

It is prudent for HR leaders to invest more in human capital to guarantee productivity and profitability of an organization. There is a need for HR leaders to understand how to onboard the right talent with the right skills to enhance employee value to an organization. This goes hand in hand with instituting the right organizational culture that accommodates a diverse set of employees.

Beyond HR Collaboration for success

Counting on a small number of problem solvers is no longer an option for businesses. Relevant knowledge and ideas exist at every organizational level, but finding and utilizing them is tough. To accomplish this, businesses must provide the necessary motivation, infrastructure, and social climate to encourage people to speak up, share expertise, and collaborate to achieve common goals.

Performance management and well-being through work place connectivity

It is critical that any approach to wellbeing fits authentically with the firm's core mission if it is to become an important part of company culture. We shall discuss how work place connectivity enables positive well-being.

Beyond HR Collaboration for success

Reviewing strategy planning as a useful functional alignment process for HR Executives.

Energy building behaviors for positive workplace engagement

Understanding positive engagement practices for positive working results that ensure business continuity.

Assessing Diversity and Inclusion for proper engagement

Diversity and inclusion metrics review for proper engagement

Employees well-being and Talent Retention

We shall review company's values and work on ways of improving company culture to have positive talent retention.

Employee flexibility for maximized results

The conference will give different insights into employee flexibility measures and steps to maximizing results.

Work- life alignment strategie

Proper work balance for productive collaboration in the work place.
