

INVITATION

Invitation to the Annual EDHE Kick-off 2023 event hosted alongside the Academia Industry Training (AIT): Swiss and African Science and Business Innovators (SASBI) for the AIT-SASBI Conference 2023

This year, the annual EDHE Kick-Off will be hosted alongside the Academy-Industry Training: Swiss and African Science and Business Innovators (AIT-SASBI) Conference 2023 on February 22nd-23rd at the Southern Sun Hotel O.R Tambo in a rich international learning experience for EDHE members, along with peers from Switzerland, Rwanda, Kenya, Nigeria, and Ghana. This would be achieved through an engaging programme and through ample opportunity for networking and collaboration.

The theme of EDHE for 2023 is positioned for social innovation for societal impact #innovation4impact, which will delve deeper into how social innovation might develop and implements new ideas and approaches that address social needs and improve the well-being of entrepreneurs, the Higher Education sector, and the broader community.

1. What you will gain from attending?

These two conference days will serve to strengthen links among stakeholders from academia and innovation and help dive into business cultures of each other's countries. A market place on day one will invite startup companies that have successfully come out from national and/or regional entrepreneurship competitions in South Africa, Rwanda, Kenya and Nigeria to present prototypes of their business ideas. A jury panel with experts for the Swiss market fit will have the final say on those companies that will be invited for a 10 days residency stay in Switzerland in June 2023.

The ultimate goal of this get-together is to increase business network opportunities for academia-related start-up companies and to enlarge the understanding of how to do business in different corners of Africa and Switzerland.
