Vince C. Lago

Mayor of Coral Gables

Vince C. Lago was elected Mayor of the City of Coral Gables in April 2021 in a decisive victory. Mayor Lago is the youngest elected in the city's history to hold this office. Prior to his election, he served as City Commissioner for eight years holding the post of Vice Mayor from 2019 to 2021.

Throughout the years, the Mayor has dedicated his time to South Florida civic and philanthropic causes where he has held various leadership roles. A former member of the Coral Gables Planning and Zoning Board, he brings a reasonable and creative approach to land use remaining committed to preserving Coral Gables' unique character and history while placing the interests of residents first. During his tenures, Mayor Lago has spearheaded numerous legislative initiatives and has led the City's sustainability efforts. Previously, he served on the Board of Directors of the Coral Gables Community Foundation where he worked to promote and enhance the quality of life for residents. He also assisted in raising funds to help the elderly, youth, and disabled population in the community. A strong proponent of arts and culture, he has served on the board of Locust Projects for more than 10-years, a non-profit contemporary art organization that supports emerging and mid-career artists. He also served on the City of Miami's Arts and Entertainment Council. Additionally, he is on the Board of Directors of the Coral Gables Museum. He holds a Master's in Construction Management from the School of Engineering at Florida International University (FIU) as well as a bachelor's in Business Administration. An advocate of advancing the region's planning and transportation needs and enhancing energy conservation, in 2017 he was appointed to represent Coral Gables on the board of the Miami-Dade Transportation Planning Organization. Since 2019 he has served on the Junior League of Miami Community Advisory Board where he provides insight and expertise on important community advocacy projects.

In December 2021, Mayor Vince Lago was elected Vice Chair of the Biscayne Bay Watershed Management Advisory Board. The Biscayne Bay Watershed Management Advisory Board provides advice on the long-term management of Biscayne Bay, health of the marine community, run-off and other effects to water quality, marine debris, education and outreach, and economic development while ensuring the vitality of Biscayne Bay and taking note of how conditions in Biscayne Bay may affect residents and property owners. In 2021, the City Commission appointed Mayor Lago as the City's liaison to the Business Improvement District.

He is an executive at a renowned management and design firm focused on commercial construction projects specializing in medical and educational facilities.

He resides in Coral Gables with his wife Olga Mari Saizarbitoria and daughters Mirentxu and Catalin.

Kim Garst

AI Consultant | Digital Futurist | Impact Entrepreneur

Over the past 30+ years, Kim has built not just one, but seven 7-figure online businesses, along with several 6-figure ventures. Her journey has been remarkable, establishing her as a go-to authority in online marketing, particularly in AI marketing and social selling.

One of her key takeaways from decades of experience is that authenticity is the cornerstone of successful marketing. Whether in the realm of social selling or through cutting-edge AI-driven strategies, staying true to one's identity is what truly sets brands apart.

Her book, "Will the Real You Please Stand Up: Show Up, Be Authentic, and Prosper in Social Media," is an international best seller and a testament to the power of authenticity in marketing. What excites Kim most is the connection between authenticity and AI.

Her mission is to help businesses understand how to train AI to reflect their unique voice and brand message. She envisions an AI that not only works smarter but also resonates with audiences by capturing a brand's genuine voice. By combining authenticity with AI's capabilities, Kim believes businesses can create real connections that drive growth like never before.

For Kim, it's not just about technology; it's about using technology to foster more human and authentic engagements. She is passionate about innovating and making marketing that truly speaks to people.

Dress Code

Business

This is a professional and conservative type of dress code, usually expected in the conference sessions and other corporate events. It usually requires men to wear a suit and tie, and women to wear a suit, a cocktail dress or a skirt.

Smart-casual

This is a relaxed but neat type of dress code, suitable for occasions such as casual dinners. It usually requires men to wear a blazer or a sweater with trousers, and women to wear a dress or a skirt with a cardigan or a jacket.

Casual

This is the most informal and comfortable type of dress code, ideal for sight-seeing activities. It usually allows people to wear anything they like, such as t-shirts, jeans, shorts, or sneakers.

General information

Useful information

- Location: Miami is a vibrant city located in southeastern Florida, United States, along the Atlantic coast.
- Time Zone: Miami operates on Eastern Daylight Time (EDT), UTC-4, during late October, as Daylight Saving Time ends on the first Sunday in November.
- Currency: The official currency of the United States is the US Dollar (USD). Credit cards are widely accepted, but it's advisable to carry some cash for small purchases.
- Language: The official language is English. Spanish is also widely spoken and understood, reflecting Miami's diverse cultural makeup.
- Electricity: The United States uses Type A and Type B electrical plugs, with a voltage of 120V and a frequency of 60Hz. Travelers from countries with different plug types will need a plug adapter.
- Weather: Late October in Miami typically offers warm and pleasant weather, with average temperatures ranging from 22°C to 28°C (72°F to 82°F). While the weather is generally warm, it's advisable to bring light clothing, sunscreen, and a light jacket or sweater for cooler evenings or air-conditioned indoor settings.
- Safety: Miami is generally a safe destination for travelers, but it's advisable to take standard precautions against petty theft and to be aware of your surroundings, especially in crowded tourist areas. Emergency services can be reached by dialing 911.
- Healthcare: Miami has a high standard of healthcare, with both public and private hospitals available. Travelers should ensure they have adequate travel insurance covering medical expenses, as healthcare in the United States can be expensive.
- Tipping: Tipping is customary in Miami. It's typical to leave a tip of around 15-20% for good service in restaurants and cafes. Some establishments may include a service charge in the bill, so it's worth checking before tipping. Tipping is also expected for services such as taxis, hotel staff, and others.
