None of us is as smart as all of us

- Ken Blanchard

We've poured our passion into crafting this Forum, and we hope you'll find it as enriching as we did while putting it together!

In 2021, Aikya Connect was born out of a personal need I discovered while operating our single-family office (SFO) over the past decade. Recognising the immense value of advice from peers managing their own family offices, I saw a critical need for SFO CIOs to connect, share, and learn in a private, confidential setting.

Over the last four years, Aikya Connect has evolved into a thriving network, drawing large SFOs from India, the Middle East, and Asia. Our member CIOs, collectively overseeing USD $28 Billion in assets, convene twice a month in unique call formats to exchange insights and intelligence on investments.

What sets us apart is not just our professionalism but the friendships that have blossomed among peers – a testament to the camaraderie within our community.

The Forum's format remains true to Aikya Connect's ethos of discretion and education. Comprising key family members and executives from single-family offices, the program is meticulously designed to cater to your interests as a family office. It facilitates interactions that foster valuable peer perspectives on pertinent topics and cultivates peer relationships - a cornerstone of our network.

"There aren't many conferences truly designed with the family office in mind. Most events aim to sell products or promote funds. Aikya Connect stands out because it focuses on fostering genuine connections among family offices, addressing not just investments but the broader aspects of being a family office. Jai Rupani has captured this essence because, as a family office himself, he understands these unique needs. This forum is built with the client in mind, not the seller."

Ahmed Hussain

Global Head Family Offices, Neuberger Berman, UK

"One of the greatest strengths of Aikya Connect is its discretion - individual members and discussions remain confidential, which is a truly valuable asset. Being one of the initial members, my journey with Aikya has been nothing short of wonderful. It has been an enriching educational experience that has improved me professionally. The group discussions have often clarified my thought processes, reinforced my perspectives, and at times, made me take a second look at my ideas, helping me focus and grow."

Rohinton Bharucha

Strategic Advisor, Patni Family Office

"For me, the greatest value of Aikya Connect lies in its human capital. At our family office, we view learning as an ongoing journey, and Aikya has been a vital part of that process. When we were setting up our family office and even after, joining Aikya gave us access to invaluable perspectives and guidance from experienced members in the family office space. It helped shape our thinking about markets, risk, and the economy.

The smaller, focused conversations within the community are incredibly qualitative, allowing us to dive deep into specific issues. More importantly, Aikya fosters camaraderie, creating a safe space to openly discuss investments and challenges."

Yash Poddar

Co-principal & CIO, Vikas Poddar Family Office

“Aikya Connect is a highly focused community with a clear intent - supporting the unique needs of single family offices. Whether it’s investment strategies, succession planning, interpersonal dynamics, or constructing a family constitution, everything Aikya does revolves around the singular goal of empowering single family offices.”

Siddharth Mangharam

Principal, Mangharam Family Office

“The most special part of Aikya Connect is its community and peer network. It’s not just about having a network; it’s about the culture within it. What stands out is how candid and forthcoming everyone is. People are open to sharing their experiences and insights, without any sense of competition. This openness is what creates real value, making it an invaluable opportunity to learn and grow from the collective wisdom of the group.”

Chaitanya Kejriwal

Joint Managing Director, Parksons Packaging Ltd

“The best part about Aikya Connect is that it brings the entire investing ecosystem together in one place. It provides instantaneous validation from other family offices on various aspects of investing - be it products, geographies, or structures - making it incredibly valuable.

Another unique aspect of Aikya is the insights it offers into how family offices are organized. From understanding team structures and operational costs as a percentage of portfolios to exploring legal frameworks like trusts, estate planning, and succession, the forum has given us clear answers and helped us take definitive steps in these areas.”
