Steven Goldstein is one of the financial markets' leading performance and executive coaches. Steven has coached traders, risk specialists and managers at the world's leading hedge funds, asset management firms, investment banks, commodity and energy trading businesses over the past 10 years. Prior to Alpha R Cubed, Steven worked in senior trading roles for 25 years at Credit Suisse, Commerzbank and American Express. Steven is also co-host of the popular AlphaMind podcast and lectures on Behavioural Finance at the LSE.

During this session, Steven will discuss how hedge funds can generate alpha by focusing on their talent, people & performance aspects; why historically hedge funds have largely overlooked 'Human Alpha'; and will share ideas for 'deliberate' development of 'Human Alpha' within a hedge fund ...
