

BEYOND JUST GREEN

SILA Student Awards 2024

ABOUT SILA

The Singapore Institute of Landscape Architects (SILA) is a non-profit organization representing the landscape architectural profession in Singapore. It was established in 1985 with the objectives to promote the profession of landscape architecture, support research and education in landscape architecture, as well as create and maintain a high standard of professional qualification.

OBJECTIVE OF THE AWARDS

Under SILA's key thrust, we welcome initiatives and collaborations with local tertiary institutions, and work closely with them to continuously advance the learning and practice of landscape architecture. SILA believes in continuous learning and innovation. We believe in providing educational support to grow our profession and nurture the future leaders of our profession.

Therefore, the SILA Student Awards is organized with the following goals:

- To spread awareness of the courses available in Singapore and in the region for the pursuit of landscape design and disciplines in related fields, to nurture the future leaders of the landscape architecture profession.
- To publicly acknowledge the efforts and talents of future landscape practitioners from Singapore and regional institutions.
- To create an environment which will encourage, raise exposure, and sustain the creative spirit of young landscape practitioners and enhance standards of landscape architecture in Singapore and the region.
- To establish strong ties between Singapore and regional institutions to promote networking and raise the profile of the landscape architecture profession.

The theme 'Beyond Just Green' epitomizes the intellectual rigour of the profession, inspiring creative design solutions within parameters determined by research and analysis. It aims to create awareness that landscape architecture goes beyond the 'green' norms of designing with plants and gardens.
