2.2

Tribute to Mr Richard Tan

Sri mentioned on the lost of Singapore’s pioneer in the landscape industry and also the founding member of SILA, Mr Richard Tan.

2.3

Membership Development

Lead by Elsa, Simon and Sri, membership development is a significant task for SILA to strengthen credibility of SILA, creating a more sustainable organisation, demonstrating the benefits of being a part of SILA and to increase the level of professionalism of SILA. The road map for membership development will be to understand the member aspirations, to standardise admin management and procedures and to develop membership.

Sri also presented the work in progress item for membership which includes the matrix and structure, benefits, and pathway. This will be shown to the members once it is ready.

It is brought up that Landscape architect term is loosely used even within the professions and offices. Sri presented the requirement for the use of titles as below and reminded that anyone who do not fit the requirement should not use the titles.

MEMBERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Tightening the use of the term
"Landscape Architect"

The recommended designations, appellations and abbreviations are as follows:

Title [designation]	Academic [qualification]	Professional [affiliation]	Professional body [recognition]
Appellation Landscape Architect	Accepted tertiary institution with recognized professional degree in landscape architecture, bachelor's/ honours/ master's degree	Abbrevs: BLA/ BLA(hons) MLA	Membership (min Graduate) of the Singapore Institute of Landscape Architects or membership of IFLA Institute of Landscape Architects (or recognized regional chapter)	Abbrevs: GSILA or MSILA Recommend current and active in process of accreditation with SILA/Landscape Architects Accreditation Office [LAAO] Abbrev: N/A
Appellation Accredited Landscape Architect	Accepted tertiary institution with recognized professional degree in landscape architecture, bachelor's/ honours/ master's degree	Abbrevs: BLA/ BLA(hons) MLA PhD	Current Full Member or Fellow of the Singapore Institute of Landscape Architects and membership of IFLA APAC Institute of Landscape Architects (or recognized regional chapter)	Abbrevs: MSILA or FSILA Current accredited status with the Landscape Architect's Accreditation Office [LAAO] Abbrev: Accr.LA
Example 1.	Landscape Architect	[Name Surname] MLA, GSILA
Example 2.	Accredited Landscape Architect	[Name Surname] BLA, MSILA, Accr. LA

Stephen had asked if there will be other terms which can be used and if contractors cannot use this title. This is something which SILA is working on but it is difficult to manage the misuse of terms outside of SILA.

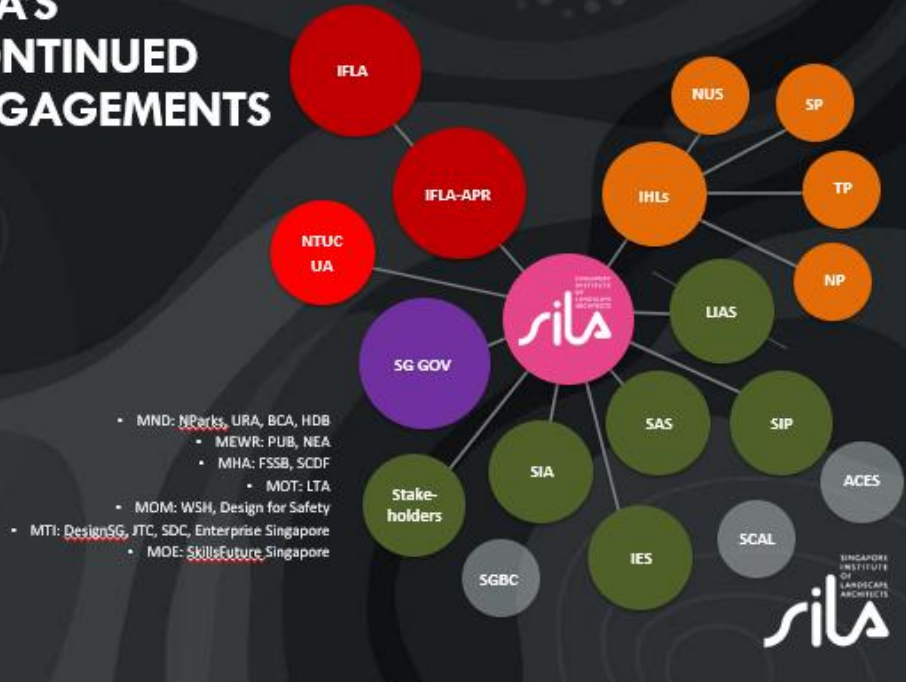

Mel mentioned on the multiple titles which can be used, for MLA / BLA, it is easy for client outside of the industry to understand. However, GSILA / MSILA could be something difficult for non-industry to understand. Sri replied that it is not a requirement to use them but can be used if preferred.

Peck Cheong ask about the enforcement of the terms? He recommended that this could be an advisory to SILA members instead of enforcement. Sri responded that this is a recommendation from SILA and needs the RPs to acknowledge the declaration. Yvonne added that once SILA RPs had acknowledged the declaration, they will be approaching LIAS for similar understanding, informing the contractors that they should not be using the term Landscape Architects Consultant.

Sherman highlighted on the need to see the other aspect that is to legally own or claiming to own the title of landscape architects. The term architects cannot be used unless the person register themselves as an architect with the Singapore Institute of Architects. SILA should carefully consider on the usage of the terms and announcing it publicly. Given an example of having the acknowledgement and support from the RPs to use the term correctly, however it is an advisory to non-SILA members, the usage of Landscape Architects cannot be

2.4	controlled if used by contractors, e.g. Interior Designer. Sherman thinks this will be confusing in the public domain, he is in favour of the idea but he doesn't see how it will effect change. Sri thanks everyone's comment and contribute to the development. This is still work in progress and will share future idea when available on how to reach out beyond the RPs. Helen Smith Yeo asked if there is any change in the usage of architect as ACRA rejected application of architect for the application of the company. Sri responded that they understand that another company was rejected as an architect firm but SILA had checked and there was an addendum which states that it excludes landscape architects and naval architects. Helen will be able to approach ACRA to add architect into the company registration. Yvonne mentioned that the goal is for RPs to align on the standards so SILA will have a bigger voice when approaching agencies or institutes. Stephen agreed with Yvonne that SILA RPs should stand together to put pressure and let them know that on the guidelines and standards for Landscape Architects, protecting Landscape Architects. Stefaan asked if staff with BLA or MLA will be downgraded, and Sri replied that they will not be downgraded and can still be called Landscape Architect based on their qualification. Peck Cheong mentioned that discussion was brought up when he first joined the profession. He felt that the title of individuals is not as important as the skill set but it should be the value individual can bring into the value chain. He will support if SILA is heading toward legalising Landscape Architect title in Singapore but will not support if it is to boost the ego of the professions as others will find loophole to name themselves which SILA will need to govern. Peck Cheong felt that SILA should focus on how to improve the value of the profession instead of how to own the name of Landscape Architect. Leonard supports the proposal, he understands that this process will take years to fulfil but it should be time to reclaim the title and not just talking about it all the time. Vince commented on the usage of indicating that they are SILA Accredited LA with their registry number and this should make a difference. Sri thank everyone for their comment and will take in everyone comment and view. These will be taken into consideration and will further update the members. SILA Engagement Sri presented on SILA's continued engagements as below.
