APAAACI 2021 International Conference To Go Fully Virtual

On behalf of the APAAACI Board of Directors, we warmly welcome you to the fully virtual APAAACI 2021 International Conference from 15-17 October 2021. With a wonderful mix of outstanding international and regional faculty, and topic-specific sessions, both as live and on-demand, the conference will provide an excellent combination of the latest advances in clinical, research and problem-based learning in allergy, asthma and immunology. This not to be missed educational experience will be brought to you in real time but will also be made available for your viewing post event at your convenience for a limited period.

As a key element of this virtual event, APAAACI is happy to announce an EDUCATIONAL GRANT PROGRAM available for qualified researchers, abstract submitters and clinicians to apply for. Stay tuned for more information shortly.

We sincerely invite you to submit your abstracts. The deadline for abstract submissions has been extended to July 15th. We believe this will also give you the opportunity to receive the Educational Grant, and present your abstracts as either e-posters or oral presentations.

We encourage you to submit your best abstracts this month!
